

Driving Instructions for getting to Mead Auditorium on the NMU campus

Marquette is on US 41, which comes in from the south or west. To come into town, you want to take Business US 41.

Coming into the city from the south and getting onto Business US 41:

From the south, you drive straight into town rather than going onto the bypass which goes to your left. There is a roundabout where the bypass begins. You want to be in the right lane as you approach the roundabout to drive into town. You enter Marquette on South Front Street. In less than a mile, Business US 41 turns left onto Washington Street.

Continue on Business US 41 (Washington Street) until you get to Seventh Street. Turn right onto Seventh Street. Drive about a mile on Seventh Street to Elizabeth Harden Campus Drive.

At this point, you are on the edge of the campus. Turn left onto Elizabeth Harden Campus Drive. Campus Drive turns right in several hundred yards. Turn right to stay on Elizabeth Harden Campus Drive until you get to the West Science Building, which will be your right. (There is a rotunda entrance on the south side you will go in.) Park in one of the parking lots near there (There are lots on both sides.) and walk to West Science. Mead Auditorium is near the south rotunda entrance. Ask for a temporary parking permit when you register and bring it back to your car.

Coming into the city from the west and getting onto Business US 41:

The bypass begins at the west end where you come into town. You will see a Holiday Inn on your right. You need to move to the left lane to come into town. You will be on West Washington Street as you enter Marquette.

Drive less than a mile and you will get to Seventh Street. Turn left onto Seventh Street. Then drive about a mile on Seventh Street to Elizabeth Harden Campus Drive. At this point, you can follow the directions in the last paragraph of the previous section.
